

Carol Morgan
226 White Chapel Rd.
Lancaster, PA 17603
(717) 299-1079

Carol Morgan was born and raised in Davenport, Iowa but since college graduation and employment as a product designer for Armstrong World Industries has made her home in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. She is a professional artist and designer receiving her degree from Iowa State University.

Morgan's range of work includes painting, watercolor and needlework. Subjects range from the specific (florals, landscapes etc.) to the abstract. Whimsey, wit and playfulness are unifying themes in much of her art.

Using a wide variety of media, often unconventional, Morgan's chosen materials are an intrinsic part of the final statement. Frequently expressive gesture (unreadable "calligraphy") energizes the work and may tease and intrigue the viewer to engage in mental dialogue with the art.

Selected exhibits include:

America House, NYC	Lancaster County Library
Lancaster Museum of Art	Marion Art Gallery, Lancaster, PA
Delaware Art Center	Ganser Gallery, Millersville University
Demuth Museum	Museum of Contemporary Crafts, NYC
Franklin & Marshall College	North Museum, Lancaster, PA
Lancaster Country Day School	University of Delaware
Lancaster Co. Art Assn.	William Penn Museum, Harrisburg

Public collections: Lancaster County Courthouse; Lancaster Museum of Art

Morgan is an active member of the Echo Valley Art Group; she served as Director of the Demuth Foundation (Museum) in Lancaster, PA from 1985-1996. The museum is housed in Charles Demuth's restored Lancaster home and dedicated to his art and to the history of the Demuth Family.
