I hope this guide finds you healthy. The Coronavirus global pandemic is an evolving situation for all of us. For trusted coverage of the crisis, watch BBC World News and PBS NewsHour weekdays starting at 5:30pm. Also be aware our schedule is always subject to change. As timely specials come available in regards to the coronavirus, we will preempt regularly scheduled programs. Schedule updates will be shared through our weekly email newsletter Program Points. Sign up at witf.org/newsletters. Also find updates at witf.org/programs.

Last Tango in Halifax is back in the schedule. A fifth season premiered in the United Kingdom this winter and will make its way over to the United States later this year. PBS has yet to pin an official start date for the new season. While we wait for the new season to make its way across the pond, we’ll play catch up. Season 1 premiered on WITF all the way back in 2013, so this is an excellent opportunity to reacquaint yourself with Celia, Alan, and their respective families. The replay of Last Tango in Halifax begins April 12 and continuing Sundays at 7pm.

This month marks the 50th anniversary of Earth Day. To celebrate, we’ll encore WITF’s original productions in the Pennsylvania Conservation Heritage series. This includes the hour-long documentary Penn’s Woods: Cradle of Conservation April 23 at 9pm. In the 19th century the commonwealth became an industrial powerhouse at an environmental price. Pennsylvanians set about restoring the state’s environmental riches and in the process helped shape the national conservation and environmental movements of the twentieth century. Zoom in to rarely seen animal behavior with a new season of Spy in the Wild. This clever series premiered in 2017 with more than 30 animatronic spy cameras disguised as animals to secretly capture behavior in the wild. This time these animatronic “spies” bear witness to some of nature’s greatest events. Spy in the Wild season 2 begins April 29 at 8pm and continues into May. Stay tuned for the final few episodes of Expeditions with Steve Backshall. The fascinating series transports viewers to hard to visit locations where only a few (if any) people have explored before Steve. My favorite episode so far in this series has been his visit to Greenland kayaking in the Arctic. He’ll return to Greenland and other places with captivating landscapes beginning May 10.

Hear WITF through your Smart Speaker

WITF simulcasts our radio schedule as a stream through the internet which is accessible by most smart speaker devices. If you have an Amazon Echo (Alexa-enabled), Apple HomePod or Google Home you can hear WITF. Simply tell your device to, “Play WITF Radio” and the stream will begin playing. Listening through a smart speaker may be an ideal solution if you want to listen to WITF in a room that has lousy reception of the station using an antenna. Check it out today!
