ODD SQUAD

ACTIVITY: TRY THIS
Turn the music up! Start out with a full piece of newspaper, a sheet or a blanket. Spread it out on the floor as your child’s dance floor. Every few minutes, fold. Try one half. Continue folding into smaller ($\frac{1}{4}$), smaller ($\frac{1}{8}$) and smaller ($\frac{1}{16}$) spaces as children try to stay on the “dance floor”. Talk about fractions.

CURIOUS GEORGE

ACTIVITY: TRY THIS
Make a plastic grocery bag kite and test it out on a windy day. All you need is a grocery plastic bag and some string (ribbon, yarn, etc.) Tie the string to the handles of the bag. Try not to make it too long, as these kites are better for catching low drag wind than flying up in the air. Ask your child to talk about what they observe about the wind. Please supervise your child. Plastic bags should never be placed on a child’s head or face.

Try some family history fun. Ask your child: Who is in your family? How is your family different from Molly’s family? How is your family the same? Does anyone in your family play an instrument? Have your child interview a family member living in your home or over the phone. Ask: What was your favorite thing to do when you were my age? You can also find old family photos and share stories about your family.
