I have had delightful conversations with some of you looking for additional information about our mid-day schedule. Every weekday from 11:00am to 3:00pm, WITF presents a specially constructed collection of programs for Learning At Home. This set of programs is made available in the middle of the day to augment academic initiatives for students at home as we manage through the pandemic. The Learning At Home programs will continue through the school year to next June. Whether or not you have kids at home, you may appreciate the programs from 1:00 to 3:00pm, which are generally repeats of recent and older primetime programs of Nature, NOVA, American Experience and others. For a consistent effort no matter where you are in Pennsylvania, all seven PBS stations across the state are broadcasting the Learning At Home block. Some of you had asked why Amanpour and Company or the how-to programs moved later in the day; the Learning At Home block is why. I am especially proud to be a part of WITF and Pennsylvania PBS as we have doubled down on our efforts to be an educational resource for individuals across the commonwealth during this difficult time.

Election Day is November 3 and PBS NewsHour provides continuous coverage of results and analysis from 6:00pm until late into the night.

Additional special coverage may be scheduled as necessary but will be determined beyond the time of publication of this document. Please be sure to check out witf.org/programs for the latest scheduling news and updates.

Have you been watching The Trouble with Maggie Cole? Dawn French, the actress who portrays Maggie, has graced our screens before in our British comedy block. You may recall her as the Vicar of Dibley. We will be reprising that series early in 2021. While we’re on the topic of British comedy, I’m planning to add Last of the Summer Wine to the line-up by next summer. Stay tuned for specifics as we head into 2021.

Nature’s 38th season continues this month with a three-part miniseries on primates beginning November 4. Get to know the many species of primates, from the popular chimpanzee and gorilla, to more obscure species such as the snub-nosed monkey, the slow loris, the tarsier and many others. Watch Nature Wednesdays at 8:00pm.

Later this month we kick off the 50th anniversary celebration of MASTERPIECE. This series has created some memorable moments over the years. We’ll be looking back at a few of the highlights in a special MASTERPIECE: 50 Fabulous Years on November 29. Next month I’ll share with you some of the plans in store for MASTERPIECE through 2021. In the meantime, stay healthy, stay safe and stay tuned! Thanks for watching WITF.
