Secrets of the Dead returns this month with a handful of new episodes. The series, which shines new light on past events, explores the sunken remains of an early Christian basilica in western Turkey, the world of dinosaur fossil collecting, and the untold story of Paris’ most famous landmark. Find Secrets of the Dead on WITF TV Wednesdays at 10pm beginning October 11. Look for more episodes coming in November, too.

I’m thrilled to announce the second season of World on Fire is coming to WITF TV this month! The first season of this war drama aired on WITF TV back in April 2020, and the production of its second season was delayed by the pandemic until this year. Watch the new season on WITF TV Sundays at 9pm starting October 15.

We’ve been replaying season one to jog your memory about this series Thursday nights at 10pm. If you missed the replay, be sure to stream World on Fire’s first season on WITF Passport. It’s a difficult series to join midway through, with many moments in the show tying one episode to the next.

WITF’s podcast Postscript has been recapping the series episode by episode. You can find Postscript wherever you listen to podcasts, through the free WITF app and at witf.org/postscript.

Don’t forget! Postscript has recaps of Miss Scarlet and The Duke and All Creatures Great and Small, too, which are available in the podcast feed.

Acclaimed documentarian Ken Burns’ latest production, The American Buffalo, premieres this month. The two-part, four-hour documentary will take you on a journey through more than 10,000 years of North American history and across some of the continent’s most iconic landscapes, tracing the American buffalo’s evolution, significance to the Great Plains, near demise, and relationship to the Indigenous People of North America.

Watch The American Buffalo on October 16 and 17 at 8pm each night on WITF TV. We’ll replay it the following weekend, on Sunday, October 22, from noon to 5pm. The series will be available to stream via WITF Passport on the PBS or WITF app.

Beginning on October 24 and continuing into November, WITF celebrates Native American Heritage Month with the premiere of Native America’s second season. Watch it on WITF TV Tuesdays at 9pm.

Building on the foundation of the acclaimed first season, the series presents stories of Native Americans who are carrying forward Indigenous values to transform our 21st century world. All four episodes of the first season, which premiered in 2018, are available to stream through WITF Passport.

On October 26, we wrap up season nine of Doc Martin on WITF TV. I hope you have been enjoying this comedy-drama series’ return to our schedule. Seasons eight and nine will land in our schedule again later in 2024. Right now, you have access to stream both seasons on-demand through WITF Passport on the PBS or WITF app.

But wait – there’s more. Season 10, the final season of Doc Martin, arrives on WITF Passport beginning in November! You can jump into season 10 early – before it arrives on WITF TV in January.

If you’re not already a WITF Passport member, you can become one for a minimum gift of $5 a month or $60 a year to unlock early access to Doc Martin’s tenth season.
